

Cor!
Look at that steam engine!

I say, what an absolute smasher!

This wonderful book is over fifty year's old. In its time it contained all the information it was thought a boy needed to know. It was from the time when it was thought there was stuff boys needed to know and then different stuff girls needed to know, and hopefully times have changed!

According to the book you needed to know:

- The length of the world's longest rivers
- The height of the world's tallest mountains
- The names of the kings and queens of Britain
- The area of the world's lakes and seas
- The names of Britain's fastest trains and ships

If we were making a modern School Pupil's Pocket Book what knowledge would need to be in it? What do we need to know for the times we are living in?

The Modern School Pupil's Pocket Book

Contents:

tallisLAB

The Schoolboy's Pocket Book